Diocese of St Edmundsbury
and Ipswich

May 2021

News from the Diocese

Dear colleagues,

This newsletter comes with news of upcoming events, training and resources which I hope you will find useful. I am very aware of how hard everyone in schools are working and hope that the May half-term will provide some welcome rest, now that restrictions are lifting.

It has been so good to be in schools this term. We are pleased to be offering SIAMS support visits, interviewing for headships and seeing children again. We are continuing to hold meetings and training sessions via Zoom for now and will keep this under review. Please see details of our termly Headteachers' forum and Chairs of governors' forum opposite. We are also holding wellbeing sessions for Headteachers, administrative staff and governors this term, as well as a new governor training session on monitoring (more below).

The Church of England has recently been approved as one of nine national providers of national professional qualifications for teachers. The DfE has reformed its whole suite of professional development and this is an exciting step. National training will be delivered by key local delivery partners and we hope that church schools will be able to access high quality training (further details are available here). The Church of England has already successfully run four cohorts of the CofE Professional Qualification for Headship and it was good to hear Darren Gates, Headteacher at St Matthew's CofE Primary in Ipswich present on 23 March, having successfully completed his CofEPQH.

Further changes to teacher training also come in from September 2021 with the introduction of the Early Career Framework, and a two year induction for Early Career Teachers replacing the current one year induction for Newly Qualified Teachers. For more please click here.

Also from September, the management and administration of SIAMS inspections, quality assurance of inspection practice and of reports (including critical reading) and inspector training will come from the new national team. Dioceses will no longer deal with any of the administrative aspects of SIAMS inspections but will retain responsibility for providing acknowledged that they may have things to 'put down' or 'let go' from the past year.

Each staff member received a little brown paper bag, with a prayer, thought prompts and an activity to represent any regrets or losses dissolving away and into the hands of God. It is the first in a series of activities designed to support staff during these tricky times."

Thank you to local businesses and parents who have helped St Mary's CofE Primary School, Woodbridge remove old playground equipment. Alex Gwynne, deputy head said it was a real group effort to get the work done. The school is currently fundraising to replace the equipment which they hope to do over the summer holidays. For more on this, please see the EADT

Congratulations to Stonham Aspal CEVAP School which recently relaunched its new ethos and values. These are now underpinned by the motto of 'Believe and Achieve' – everything is possible for one who believes, Mark 9:23. The school has linked its motto and Bible verse to the teacher awards as can be seen from the illustration above.

At this year's RHS Chelsea Flower Show (21-26 September), there will be a show garden on the theme of Psalm 23, sponsored by the Bible Society.

The Bible Society hope that communities, including school communities, will be inspired to create a Psalm 23 garden of their own, or to give new life to an existing garden. To help make creating a Psalm 23-inspired school garden easy, free videos and downloadable resources are available here.

Opposite and below are some examples of corridor displays that were also produced during the school's Ethos and Values morning.

The school is also in the process of collecting children's ideas for a new school logo to incorporate the motto, the Church and how the children grow in every way on their journey through Primary School.

Fischy Music has added some new songs for schools and churches. For more, please click here

Congratulations to Y6 pupils at St Edmundsbury CEVAP
School for this stunning artwork. Shaun Valentine, Headteacher writes that this was "in response to learning about Holy Week and Easter. I thought they were a very clever way of linking all that the symbol of the cross means with the beauty and simplicity of God's creation, whilst adding an element of creativity of their own." We agree!
